EVENING STAR. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A LOOK AT WASHINGTON TRROUGH ENGLISH Spectacles .- The leading article of Colburn's new monthly magazine is entitled "A not over complimentary one of our national metropolis He was here during the early part of the last session of Congress at the time of the struggle for the election of Speaker; and the House of Representatives strikes him as very disorderly and tumultuous for a legislative assembly. Like others of his class of Cockney tourists, he falls, parrot-like, into the cry of some of his predecessors, at the same the manner in which legislation is got through with in dear England. For instance, we presume it would be hard to find anything in Congressional experience to surpass or rival the extraordinary tumult resorted to in the British House of Commons to put down an obnoxious debater But hear our visitor :

"If a debate springs up, it seems to be a game of cross questions and crooked answers A member is making a speech, when a question is put to him. His answer suggests other questions, and while commenting on the replies, the questioner in turn is questioned by meantime. He was sent to the work house for some one else and so on. When a member appears to be attering the last sentence of his speech, half a dozen or more members are on their legs calling out, 'Mr. Clerk!' Mr. Clerk!' amid shouts from all parts of the hall, 'Call the roll! call the roll!' You will often have to small difficulty to hear what is said. or understand what is going on, from the incessant noise and bustle. There is a constant sharp striking of letters and papers on the desk-a mode the members have of summoning the pages to take their documents to the post-box. You are amazed too at the picturesque attitudes of some of the members. You are quite right in remarking that this is a Democratic assembly. Is not that an elegant posture now of the honorable gentleman in the outer range of seats? He has flung one leg over the desk in front, the heel of his boot dipping in the ink bottle, and while his chair is tilted back, and his other leg flung over one arm of it, he chews his quid, picks his teeth, and squirts his tobacco juice at his neighbor's spittoon, which he misses. This is the Yankee way of 'taking it easy. "The Americans seem to have an uncon querable propensity to kick up their heelsnot behind, but before. I have gone into the Reading Room of the Young Men's Christian Association on the Avenue and found, of four men reading, three with their feet on the table, and the fourth baking his in the oven of the stove. On more than one occasion, while sitting in the galleries at Congress, I have 1eceived a poke at the back of my head, and turning round have discovered in close proximity, not anybody s elbow or hat, but, a pair of boots with feet in them resting on the back of my seat, on an elevation with the chair of the owner. But a more disagreeable thing than that is the chowing and spitting. In rated, and the staircase walls filthily discolored | next. with tobacco juice. In the streets, when the snow was on the ground, it looked as if people had been walking all over the city with leaky cans of molasses.

Of course, our Cockney tourist was bound to have a fling at us as a nation of tobacco chewers. We are no defenders of the filthy habit of tobacco chewing and spitting; but if there be any thing more disgusting about the manner of using the weed than the universal English (lower class) style of smoking it in dirty black pipes, we have no disposition to behold it What sort of additional unpleasantness they would contrive to make to its use were not tobacco, as it were, prohibited by the enormous tax upon it, we can exercise the Yankee privilege of guessing. Our traveler shows further evidences of his acuteness as an observer, by describing Mr Speaker Banks as a "tall" man, and Horace Greeley as a "mild, amiable looking old gen-Our Cockney visitor is evidently not a Morpeth, or a Lyell, or a Johnston, a Thackeray. or a Delaine; but he wilt do to travel among the Halls, Trollopes, Marryats, and Dickenses.

NATIONAL THEATRE. - It is to be regretted campaign with such . terling plays as "She Stoops to Conquer" and "The Love Chase," rather than pieces of the "Camille" school Our public get no adequate idea of the dramatic talent of Miss Keene, or the capabilities of her company, until the performance of the "Love Chase" on Saturday night, and the last of their engagement. While the play was well sustained by the company throughout, we have further to say that Miss Keene is, by all odds, the best " Constance" we have ever seen on the stage. Upon the fall of the curtain at the end of the piece, Miss Keene was called out by acclamation, and her announcement that herself and company might appear again at no distant period at the National was received with the heartiest demonstrations of satisfaction by the audience.

The ill-mannered conduct of a portion of the audience on Saturday night, who by the reprehensible practice of rising to go out prior to the conclusion of the farce prevents those who are disposed, from hearing or seeing, was deservedly rebuked by one of the actors, who declined going on with his part until something like order was restored.

A Bogus CAPTAIN .- A young genius who loves liquor, and is not over scrupulous as to the manner of getting it, has been playing a rather bold game lately, by passing himself off as Captain of the Auxiliary Guard at various taverns in the city, accepting invitations to drink, and promising the protection of the watchmen to all who treated him. Unluckily, in his progress he chanced to meet the real Captain, who, being a teetotaler, was not over-much pleased at the reputation the pretender was gaining for him; however, he for gave the offender for this time on his promise never again to attempt to shine in borrowed plumes.

Last week, some young scamps, represent-ing themselves as belonging to the Auxiliary Guard, arrested a number of nymphs of the pave and extorted money from them, under threat of taking them to the guard-house If these young gentlemen are caught, they will prebably find this mode of raising money under false pretenses a rather grave offence. and the penalty severe.

city reached Baltimore on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and were received at the Camden Station by a deputation of the field and staff officers of the 531 regiment. In charge staff officers of the 531 regiment. In charge of Captain George W. Talbot they visited the Fair at the Maryland Institute. At 2 o'clock they dined at the Fountain Hotel, after which they proceeded to the Calvert Station, and took their departure for York, from whence they extend their visit to Lancaster, and return home to morrow. The Guards are accompanied by Withers' Brass Band. The Baltimore papers speak in highly complimentary terms of this spirited company.

DISTURBING RELIGIOUS MEETINGS .- Yesterday, a drunken fellow went to the Asbury church and tried to gain admittance by cursing the persons in charge of the doors, and using profane and indecent language. Some citizens endeavored to persuade him away, but he turned upon them and threatened to beat them Watchman Norwood was sent for, and he arrested him and put him in the guard house where he remained until this morning, when a fine of five dollars and costs was adjudged him SERIOUS CHARGE - Saturday night, a war-rant was issued by Justice T. C. Donn, against John Newman, who was charged with having committed an assault and battery on a man named Rady, by which Rady is likely to lese an eye. The warrant was given to officer Watson, who arrested Newman near the Anacostia bridge and lodged him in the guard | BETH, wife of James Owner, in the 25th year of house. He was released on security for a further hearing.

RIOTOUS GATHERINGS .- Saturday night, the Auxiliary Guards were kept busy by the crowds of persons who were gathered at various places, and behaving very improperly. Several fights were prevented by the interference of the guards and police. Persuasion had sight of the guard house.

ACCIDENT TO A WASHINGTONIAN .- The Baltimore Sun of this morning says: "On Saturday afternoon two young men in the employ of Mr. John H. Barnes, painter, named Cornelius E Offut (from Washington city) and Solomon Burnett, son of Capt. Burnett, of this city, met with a serious accident. It appears they were engaged in painting a house at Mr. Glimpse at Uncle Sam's Managing Affairs," Seeger's lager beer brewery, out West Balti-and amongst other glimpses the author has a more street, when the scaffolding suddenly gave way, precipitating them violently to the ground from the height of about 15 feet Young Burnett fortunately escaped with only some slight bruises, but Mr. Offut was very dangerously injured His right arm was badly frac-tured, and he received a severe cut in the forehead. Mr. Barnes as soon as possible had him conveyed to his boarding house, in Pearl cry of some of his predecessors, at the same street, near Mulberry, and immediately called time betraying the most amusing ignorance of in Dr. Fleming and Prof. Miltenberger. It was at first supposed that he had sustained a fracture of the skull, but this was found not to be the case. Yesterday he was considered

> Mania - Yesterday, John Warren, a colored man passed through the city yelling and singing, exciting the fears of persons who were going to church. He was arrested by Officer Watson and placed in the guard house, where he remained until this morning, care being taken that he should not injure himself ninety days to afford him an opportunity for

to be in a favorable condition, and likely to re-

TARGET FIRING .- The " ancient and honorable" Light Infantry have a target firing this evening, the prize being a handsome silver goblet presented by Capt. J. B. Tate, long in command of that corps The goblet has the following inscription: "Washington Light Infantry, organised September 12, 1836. Presented by Joseph B. Tate, September 12,

BALL OF THE JOLLY CLUB TO-NIGHT .-- Inadvertantly, a notice of the ball to be given to-night by this capital Club, at Columbia Hall, was omitted on Saturday. We know something of the style in which the young folks in that part of the city get up their entertainments, and can promise the guests of the Jolly Club to night a grand good time.

THE METROPOLITAN HOOK AND LADDER COM-PANY of this city left this morning in No. 1 condition on their Virginia trip. The Richmond Dispatch of Saturday says: "The Hook and Ladder company of Washington will arrive in our city on Monday next. The firemen are making ample arrangements to give them a cordial reception."

THE BUCK AND BRECK BALL at Forest Hall, deorgetown, to-night, is exciting much interest, and we doubt not will attract many visitors from this city Several gentlemen of dis tinction will be present, and it is quite likely some good speaking may be added to the danc.

FARE REDUCED. - We learn that the fare has been reduced between this city and Baltimore during the cattle show and fair. Round trip tickets, at two dollars, good for three days. Congress the carpets in the galleries are satu- can be obtained until 3 p. m of Thursday

CITY CHURCHES -The various houses of worship in this city were well filled yesterday Several denominations have been holding nightly meetings during the past month and have added considerably to their membersihip. at A. S. ARNY'S Confectionery.

VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT .- We learn that the efficers of the volunteer regiment of this District will visit the President at the exocutive mansion to-night by invitation.

WATCH RETURNS -October 18th-Joseph Jones, runaway, was returned to his owners. Jacob Fish, for drunkenness and profanity, was sent to the work house for thirty days. John Newman, up for assault and battery, gave security for further hearing. John John. son, drunk and disorderly, was sent to the work house for thirty days J. H Blower, disorderly; dismissed. John Kelly, do; sent to the work house for ninety days. Susan, colored, dangerous lunatie; sent to jail.

Ostober 19th-Robert Tyler, colored, disorderly; fine and costs John Mason, George Butler, John Phillips, Samuel Alexander, Alexander Webster, Shadrack Reddin, Mariah Dodson, Ann Reding, all colored, gambling and unlawful gathering; fine and costs, that the Keene company had not opened their | $6 56 each. > WASHINGTON October 18th, 1856. Editor of the Star :- I am no longer a member of the American order, and will sup port James Buchanan for President, and henceforward act with the Democratic party. JOSIAH SIMPSON.

Several gentlemen of Louisville have been fined ten dollars each for refusing to work on the engine at the late fire.

IT in Paddeck's Book of Plates and 11lustrated Counterfeit Detector for 1816, hesays: "Hostetter's Bitters are really what their name implies, a tonic and gent e stimulant, calculated to act upon the system as a medi-cine, and not, as is too often the case, a mere invention under which to indulge in tippling We would not venture to make this statement, did we not feel sure it would be corroborated by the willing testimony of thousands all over the United States, and especially throughout the western and southern parts, where certain disorders prevail, which require just such a prescription. We are assured by a gentlejudgment and impartiality may be relied upon, that 'Hos-titter's Eitters' are a sure thing on Fever and Ague, that scourge of our newly settled regions; which indeed, has, within the past year, prevailed to an alarming extent in sections generally exempt."
